

Saucony® Unveils All-New Triumph 24

Designed for deliver comfort, the Triumph 24 delivers enhanced cushion, durability, and protection

June. 1, 2026 -- Saucony, a leading global performance running lifestyle brand, has today launched the all-new Triumph 24. Available at Saucony.com and select retailers, the Triumph 24 is built to help runners go farther and push their comfort zone with Saucony's new incrediLUX foam, delivering a lighter, more protective ride engineered for everyday miles.

At the core of the Triumph 24 is incrediLUX, an all-new midsole foam crafted to elevate underfoot cushioning creating a softer, more energy absorbing and luxurious ride at an even lighter weight. The advanced A-TPU-based compound provides 11% more cushioning than its predecessor while reducing overall weight by .4 oz, delivering a plush, comfortable ride that holds up over high-mileage training. The result is premium performance that doesn't sacrifice energy return, making the Triumph 24 ideal for runners who prioritize long lasting comfort across long runs and easy shakeouts alike.

Complementing the new midsole, the Triumph 24 features an XT-900 carbon rubber outsole for confident traction and long-lasting wear, along with a breathable comfort mesh upper designed for a plush yet secure fit.

"The Triumph has always been our benchmark for premium neutral cushioning, and incrediLUX allowed us to raise that standard," said Brian Moore, chief product officer of Saucony. "The new A-TPU foam provides even more comfort and shock absorption in an even lighter package, giving people a more effortless, luxurious experience over long runs and daily training alike."

Triumph 24 Features:

- Thick stack of incrediLUX foam engineered for premium cushioning, lightweight comfort, and consistent protection across daily training and long runs
- XT-900 carbon rubber outsole for enhanced durability and reliable traction
- Breathable comfort mesh upper delivering a plush and secure fit

The Triumph 24 is available in men's sizing from 7-13, 14, 15 and women's sizing 5-12 for a suggested retail price of $170 USD. To find a Saucony retailer near you, call 800-365-4933 or visit here.
